- Please leave the o-rings on at least one injector so we can ensure that you get the proper replacements. It is best just to leave them all on as we will return them anyway.
- It would be helpful if you cleaned the top layer of dirt and grease off of them.
- Wrap your injectors individually with a paper towel and put them in a plastic bag to keep the package from smelling of gasoline. This keeps the shipping folks happy.
- Please do not ship your fuel rails or additional charges will apply.
- It is advised that you install and use injectors within 30 days after your receive them back to minimize any chance of them sticking. If you don't plan on using the injectors for a long time, it may be best to wait before sending them in.
- If they do have to sit for extended periods, don't allow them to dry out and store them in a plastic bag or airtight container.
